Originally established in San Pedro in 1921, the South Bay District Agency employs a total of 55 people who serve 28,000 policy holders in the South Bay area. In addition to Harper, the office employs 5 staff managers, 29 agents and 10 in its clerical staff.

In commenting on the move Torrance, Harper said that policy holders served by his office have over $55 million of insurance in force. He said that, in addition to its central location, Torrance was selected as headquarters because of the opportunities that exist in this area for growth and expansion.

Citizens Face Charge

Council Nick Draie publicly declared himself "against" the idea. While the Press is in sympathy with programs for recreation expansion in Torrance, a reporter was assigned to check into the proposal and it was discovered that:

1. The Recreation Commission is not "sold" on the idea, although the letter may be presented indicating that it is the Commission's idea.

2. The proposal to charge 75 cents per month for garbage and trash collection was Mayor Haggard's, "which all citizens should expect to pay for and would assure city-wide participation in the cost of developing the areas and providing supervision services by all present and future residents," to quote the Mayor.

3. That proponents of the fund also suggested a charge on "water service" to be directed to the recreation department, but tentatively withdrew this idea because of the impending water bond issue.

4. That a subdivision fee of from $5 to $100 per homestead in new tracts be charged for recreation purposes, an idea also dropped, the Press is told.

The letter which the Recreation Department is "sending" to the City Council at the request of the mayor and others interested set forth all three plans, but it said that the 75 cent monthly garbage and trash pick-up fee "is the most appealing to the Recreation Commission."

JOINT MEETING

The idea was initiated at a combined meeting at "dinner" in the Alondra Club, on Prairie avenue, north of North Torrance, attended by Councilmen W. Blount, Ed Karlow, H. Spelman and Mayor Haggard; Planning Commission members and Recreation Commission members.

Blount favors Mayor Haggard's garbage fee idea, it was recorded at the meeting.

It was shown that Torrance has only one acre of park for each 1000 population, and that other cities have from 2.21 acres to 11.53 acres per 1000 population devoted to recreation areas.

It was proposed that three big parks be established, one in Central Torrance, one in North

Service Center Open

(Continued from Page One) organizations and industries have been asked to send representatives to see the different programs made possible by this new service center.

Various civilian defense and Red Cross exhibits will be on display with personnel present to describe the functions of the exhibits. On display will be home nursing, first aid, canteen and various other exhibits.

Also present at the official opening of the center will be the Los Angeles Red Cross chairman, said Powell, as well as civilian defense representatives of the first, police, and warden service departments.

Refreshments will be served.

Included in the facilities of the building is a kitchen, a 20 foot by 40 foot classroom, an office section of 20 feet by 30 feet, restrooms, and ample cupboard space.

Torrance, one in Southwest Torrance, and that several smaller areas be developed to take care of growing districts such as in the Fern avenue area, Seaside Ranchos and other localities.

Questioned by a reporter for the Press, Councilman Draie, who was not at the meeting, declared definitely that he wants "no more taxes or assessments on the taxpayers of the City of Torrance." He declared that "we have too much money now, for all purposes, and that there is no need for levying the garbage and rubbish collection fee."

Councilman Draie also declared that he feels "that there is enough money in the 'carry-over' to finance not only the whole recreation program, but a new city dump, a new incinerator and proper and adequate operation of the bus lines, without additional taxes."

Councilman Draie was joined by scores of other citizens who heard of the proposal to levy the garbage collection fee.

Most of them declared the idea was ridiculous, in view of the fact that Torrance has enough assessed valuation to carry on the recreation program and pay for garbage service, provide a new dump and incinerator without raising taxes or making new assessments.

ECC Warriors

Finish 1951 Baseball Play

The El Camino Warriors rang down the curtain on the 1951 baseball season last Monday evening in Sacramento as they bowed to the Sacramento JC Panthers in a double-header at Edmonds Field by the scores of 6 to 3 and 7 to 2.

Tony Raia opened on the mound for the Esstickmen and Don Knezovich ascended the hill for the Panthers, in the series that was to determine the state jaycee championship.

The Panthers started firing immediately in the first inning and when it was over they had posted six runs and had enough to win the game. Forrest Maier relieved Raia and held them to two hits thereafter, but the damage was done.

The Warriors picked up two runs in the second inning and one in the sixth inning, but they could not bunt their nine hits together when they had men on the bases.

The pitcher for Sacramento fanned seven in the seven inning game. And only allowed three men to work him for free passes.

In the second game Don Young pitched a four hit game but two homers spelled the difference between winning and losing. Again the Warriors out-hit their opponents, six to four, but infield errors proved to be disastrous to their quest for the state championship.
